GERMANY TO FALL BACK TO HER SHORT LINE OF DEFENSE

Paris, Oct. 22.—The news of the last 48 hours is corroborative of Germany's intention to fall back on the short line from Holland, through Liege, Metz and Strassburg to Switzerland.

The eleventh hour armistice maneuver having failed to save them from disaster, Von Hindenburg and Ludendorff are working hand in glove with Berlin.

Apparently the rainy season has commenced, holding out the hope that General Wetness will grant the truce thus far refused.

Reports have reached Paris that the Huns do not intend to defend Antwerp. Masses of boches are pouring past Antwerp toward Liege.

Military critics do not believe the Germans would have quit the Belgian coast unless they realized the necessity of giving up practically all of Belgium.

Things are also livening up on the Alsace-Lorraine front, where the Germans are very uneasy. Developments are expected there, especially by the enemy.

Thus, while the precise goal of Ludendorff's maneuvers can still only be surmised the scheme of reaching it is perfectly clear cut.

London, Oct. 22.—British troops are now within less than a mile of Tournai. Field Marshal Haig announced today. The Germans in that region were driven out of Orq and the wood near Froyennes.

The left bank of the Escaillon was reached south of Thiant, five miles southwest of Valenciennes.

"As the result of local fighting during the night we advanced our line to the left bank of the Escaillon, south of Thiant, the western portion of which is in our possession," said the statement.

"Further progress was made between Valenciennes and Tournai. The enemy's resistance on this front is increasing.

"In the Tournai sector, as the result of sharp fighting last night, the enemy was driven out of the village of Orq and the wood in the neighborhood of Froyennes. We are now within less than a mile of the town."

"The Germans have abandoned all their coast defense guns."

With the American Armies in France, Oct. 22.—The Germans continue to strengthen their forces opposing the Americans in the Argonne-Meuse region by rushing in units of new divisions. A captured order issued by general Von Der Marwitz appeals to the German soldier to hold this sector at all costs, which he declares is the most vital to German military movements.

Prisoners report their officers are determined to hold back the Yankee push.

In clearing out the Rappes wood, which the Doughboys accomplished yesterday afternoon in three hours despite machine guns and heavy artillery fire, they have removed one of the most serious obstacles to their continued progress.

With the British Armies in France, Oct. 22.—(Night)—British troops are rapidly closing on Tournai, both to the north and south.

Deep wedges have been driven into the Germans on both sides of this important city, and its fall appears imminent. The enemy is stubbornly defending the approaches with artillery and machine guns.

WHAT IS IMPOSSIBILITY?

Copenhagen, October 22.—The German press generally considers Dr. Sol's reply to President Wilson as a satisfactory basis for further negotiations.

"Should Wilson demand impossibilities, we must reckon on continuation of the war," the Tageblatt declares.

REVOLUTION DEVELOPS IN BULGARIA

Copenhagen, October 22.—Revolution has broken out in Bulgaria, according to a Vienna dispatch received today.

Fighting is going on in the streets of Sofia between laborers and troops. Three thousand persons have been killed.

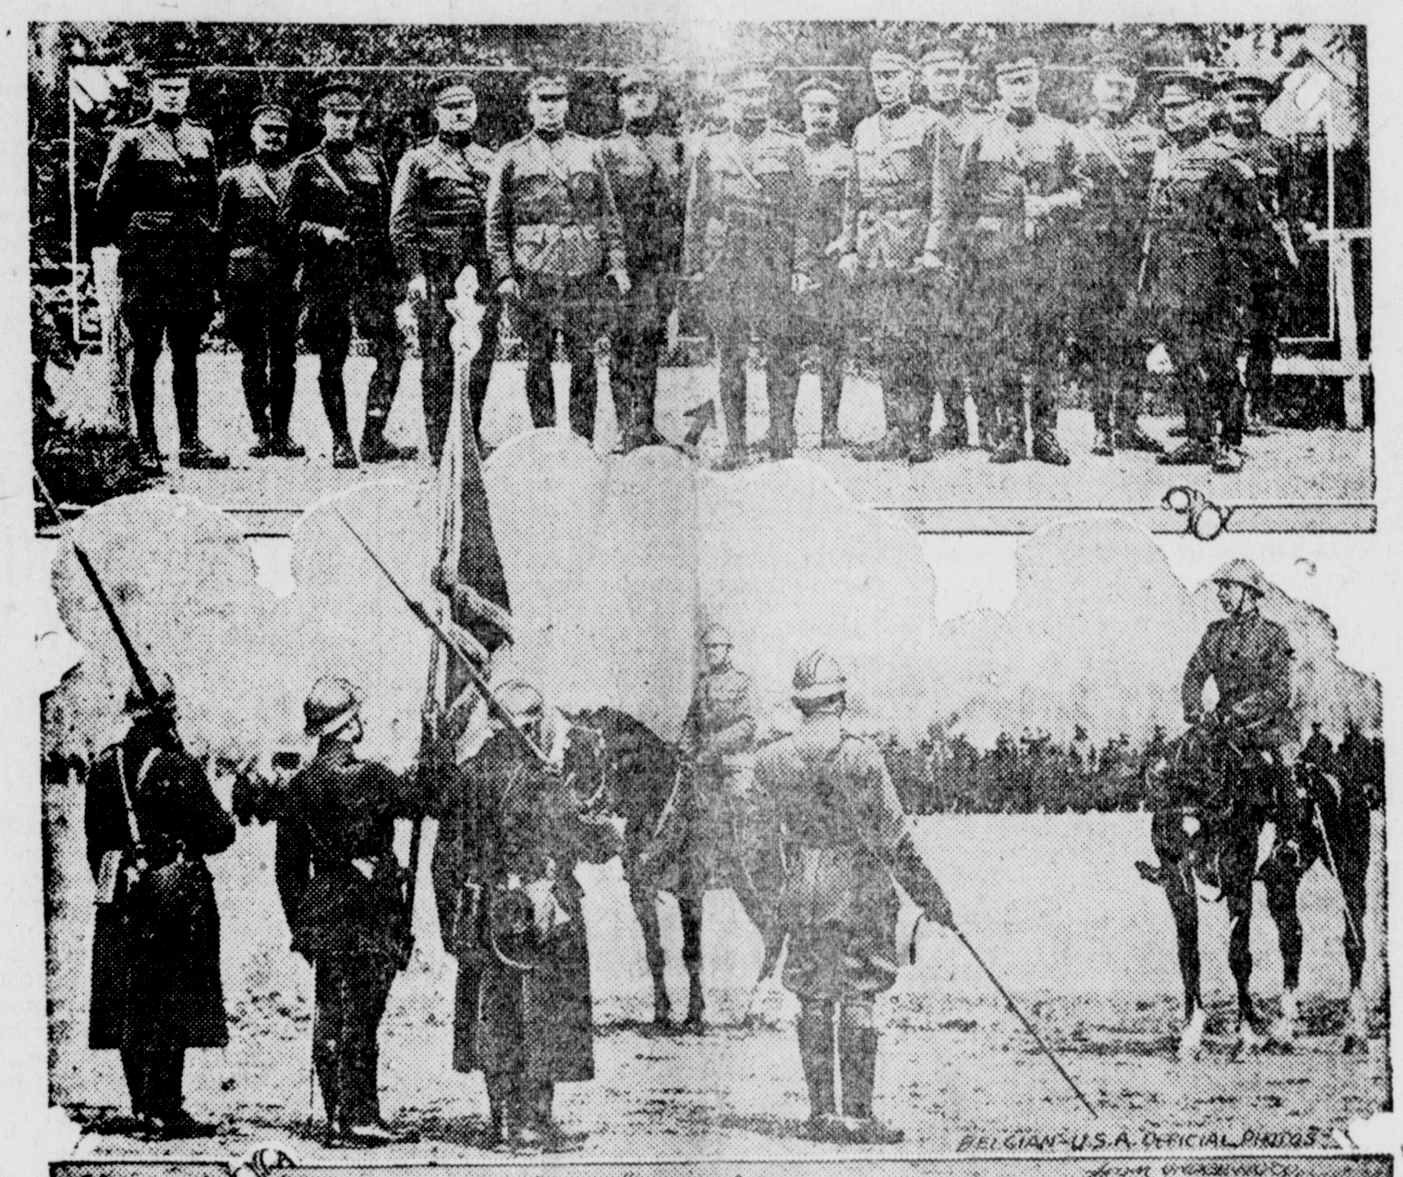

WILSON'S REPLY TO AUSTRIA IS GIVEN PRAISE

London, October 22.—Universal approbation of President Wilson's reply to Austria is reflected in editorial comments in London newspapers.

"It is a charter of liberty for the Jugo-Slavs and a permanent bar to Germany's eastern aspirations," said the Mail.

"The president's reply reaffirms the British attitude that the sword cannot be sheathed until the rights of small nations have been made unassailable," is the opinion of the Times.

AMERICAN GENERAL GREETES COMMANDER OF BELGIAN FORCES; KING PRAISES TROOPS AND DIRECTS THEM IN DRIVE ON HUNS

The Germans, now in complete rout along the Belgian front, are hoping to make a stand at a new line, to be known as the Antwerp-Namur-Sedan line, but it is doubtful if they will be allowed to halt there.

The allies have driven them from the Belgian coast in the region of Ostend and are continuing their advance. The Belgian forces, remembering the outrages committed in their land for four years by the Huns, are playing a big part in the advance. King Albert is personally directing the movements of his countrymen and he and the queen arrived in Ostend before the last Huns had gone.

FRENCH TROOPS REACH BORDER OF RUMANIA

London, Oct. 22.—While the allies continue to drive the Germans back on the west front from the Dutch frontier to the Verdun region, French troops have reached the Rumanian border.

The French war office announces that just 34 days after the Balkan offensive was launched French detachments arrived Sunday at the Danube near Vidin, in Bulgaria, 95 miles north of Sofia and only 45 miles from Hungarian soil. This represents an advance of about 200 miles northward from the Lake Doiran region.

Further progress along the Balkan front was reported in official statements. Serbian troops are in contact with the Germans who are strongly entrenched north of Aleksinatz and Krushevatz, north of Nish.

British troops, driving ahead in the Valenciennes region, have approached to within two miles of that important city and have rendered useless the Valenciennes-Hirson railway, a vital enemy supply line.

Tournai has been flanked from the north and south, the British reaching the Sheld river on a five mile front, north of that city.

The Belgians have crossed the Schindone canal, on a front of nearly 15 miles, from the Dutch frontier, southward to the Dutch frontier, southward to the Dutch frontier, southward to the Dutch frontier.

Between Ghent and Tournai the allies are approaching Audenarde. British and Americans are across the Sambre and Oise canal in force and are reported to be pushing onward.

Between Oise and the Serre, the French have made further progress capturing Mesbrecourt and Richcourt and reaching the outskirts of Villers-LeSec.

French and Americans have broken up repeated enemy counterattacks in the Vouziers region where fierce fighting is still under way.

In the Argonne the Americans have captured Rappes wood and Hill 299.

Text of Germany's Reply to Wilson

LONDON, Oct. 22.—The following is the text, received here by wireless, of Germany's reply to the latest note from President Wilson:

"In accepting the proposal for an evacuation of occupied territories the German Government has started from the assumption that the procedure of this evacuation and of the conditions of an armistice should be left to the judgment of the military advisers, and that the actual standard of power of both sides in the field has to form the basis for arrangements safeguarding and guaranteeing this standard. The German Government suggests to the President that an opportunity should be brought about for fixing the details.

"It trusts that the President of the United States will approve of no demand which would be irreconcilable with the honor of the German people and with opening a way to a peace of justice.

"The German Government protests against the reproach of illegal and inhumane actions made against the German land and sea forces, and thereby against the German people. For the covering of a retreat destructions will always be necessary, and they are carried out in so far as is permitted by international law. The German troops are under most strict instructions to spare private property and to exercise care for the population to the best of their ability. Where the aggressions occur in spite of these instructions the guilty are punished.

"The German Government further denies that the German navy, in sinking ships, has ever ruthlessly destroyed life boats with their passengers. The German Government proposes with regard to all those charges that the facts be cleared up by neutral commissions.

"In order to avoid anything that might hamper the work of peace, the German Government has caused orders to be dispatched to all submarine commanders precluding the torpedoing of passenger ships, without, however, for technical reasons, being able to guarantee that these orders will reach every single submarine at sea before its return.

"As a fundamental condition for peace the President prescribes the destruction of every arbitrary power that can separately, secretly and of its own single choice disturb the peace of the world. To this the German Government replies:

"Hitherto the representation of the people in the German Empire has not been endowed with an influence on the formation of the Government. The constitution did not provide for a concurrence of representation of the people in decisions of peace and war. These conditions have just now undergone a fundamental change. A new government has been formed in complete accordance with the wishes (principle?) of the representation of the people, based on equal, universal, secret, direct franchise.

"The leaders of the great parties of the Reichstag are members of this Government. In the future no Government can take or continue in office without possessing the confidence of a majority of the Reichstag.

"The responsibility of the Chancellor of the empire to the representation of the people is being legally developed and safeguarded. The first act of the new Government had been to lay before the Reichstag a bill to alter the constitution of the empire so that the consent of the representation of the people is required for decisions on war and peace.

"The permanence of the new system is however, guaranteed not only by constitutional safeguards, but also by the unshakable determination of the German people, whose vast majority stands behind these reforms and demands their energetic continuance.

"The question of the President—with whom he and the governments associated against Germany are dealing—is therefore answered in a clear, unequivocal manner by the statement that the offer of peace and an armistice has come from a Government which is free from any arbitrary and irresponsible influence—is supported by the approval of an overwhelming majority of the German people.

"SOLF."

AN UNCONDITIONAL SURRENDER IS THE DEMAND OF PEOPLE

Washington, Oct. 22.—Germany must come military terms with Marshal Foch.

This was the outstanding feature of developments here up to noon today, following the receipt of the latest reply to President Wilson.

The next logical step appeared to be an announcement from Foch of the terms on which he would consider an armistice possible. Whether the president will request Foch to make this statement at this time is purely problematical.

It is believed in military circles that Foch minimum terms will include allied occupation of Metz, Strassburg, and Coblenz.

Meantime public pressure from the entire nation, in the form of telegrams and editorial opinion, was combined with the strongest demands from congress, expressed by members, individually that unconditional surrender be made the only basis for further negotiations.

BY ROBERT J. BENDER.

Washington, October 22.—President Wilson will act with extreme caution—and probably equal deliberation—in handling the situation arising from the latest German peace response.

The official text of the German note has been received, and is now being decoded. It will be delivered to Secretary Lansing shortly.

The Missouri test "show me" will be applied to the reply to President Wilson's demands before further steps are taken. Time alone can tell as to the efficacy of Germany's restraining orders to her submarines, and her troops, and the closest scrutiny must be made, it was pointed out, of the new German government, to see whether it measures up to requirements set by the President at Mount Vernon.

If the reply stands the test, peace maneuvers will pass from diplomatic to military control and Marshal Foch will take the wheel from the president.

President Wilson's course has been to definitely determine Germany's acceptance of the American terms laid down in his several speeches—and then turn the whole job over to Foch to conclude.

A pause in the next step is necessitated by the need for carefully checking upon the German declaration of intentions—to preclude any trickery. Exchange of opinion—already under way—must be carried on between this government and the allies. And further, the reaction of the American people to the latest German note must be taken into account.

It is likely, however, that after the president has an opportunity to study the official text of the German note, some indication will be given out as to his attitude. Meantime many in congress and the press of this and allied nations demand an end to the parley and an application of "unconditional surrender."

Intimates of the president see in Germany's latest move, an abject confession of defeat and culpability to which that government would submit only in the hope of obtaining tolerable peace or, failing that, secure popular consent of her people for an extermination fight.

As to the question of German sincerity in wanting peace, it can be said that some persons close to the president and to the state department, viewed the German reply as acceptance of the president's terms of evacuation. They said frankly that there was no doubt in their minds that Germany was both sincere and desperate in her attempt to get peace. Incidentally, they pointed to Herr Harden's speech in Berlin, wherein he was applauded when he declared the emperor must submit to the inevitable and become the nation's first citizen, stripped of his former autocratic powers.

Harden has been the most independent of German writers and the government for some reason has never dared suppress him entirely, according to state department authorities.

Germany's attempted justification of her wanton acts of cruelty and destruction on land and sea stirred sentiment here. But authorities said that in the same breath she apparently met the president's requirement by claiming to have ordered the practices stopped. Hence, it was held that she virtually admitted guilt thereby.

Military men and others saw that while there may be trickery in Germany's recent maneuvers, the military-economic situation confronting her is so bad that there can be question that she is making a desperate drive for peace.

From the president down all are satisfied to leave in the hands of Foch, adjustment of any armistice under the conditions for which is laid down by President Wilson. Each able to calculate the relative advantages of quitting or continuing fight. His will be the problem of determining whether the chance of making a big bag of the Germans retreating to their frontiers warrants continued pressure by the allies, whether, it is the German army's withdrawal with comparatively small losses an armistice is advisable or to save human lives.

That the Germans are preparing not only for complete withdrawal, but actual demobilization of the armies indicated in a dispatch to this government today from Copenhagen, which announced that reliable newspapers there printed German dispatches that German railroads had been asked to prepare for a demobilization order.

It also requests the Mayor of every municipality in the state to set aside the week of November 11-18 as United War Work week in a proclamation.

Give Candy Cascarets to a Bilious, Constipated Child

"Mother gives me a candy Cascaret when I am cross, sick and won't play."

TO MOTHERS! Each ten cent box of Cascarets, candy cathartic, contains full directions for dose for children aged one year old and upwards. Nothing else "works" the nasty bile, sour fermentations and constipation poison from the tender little bowels so gently, yet so thoroughly. Even cross, feverish, bilious children gladly take Cascarets without being coaxed. Cascarets taste just like candy. Cascarets never gripe the little bowels, never sicken, never injure, but above all, they never disappoint the worried mother.

AN HONORABLE RECORD MADE BY GREENE CO.

An honorable record, one to which the people of Greene county can always point with pride, was achieved by this county in the Fourth Liberty Loan campaign which closed Saturday night, October 19. When the final figures were tabulated at the Liberty Loan headquarters Tuesday morning it was found that the county subscription exceeded even the most optimistic hopes of Chairman H. L. Smith and his splendid corps of tireless workers. The official total for the county is $1,155,300 or exactly $351,450 over the county's quota. This truly is a showing of which all Greene county can be proud. Especially can the 4,342 Greene county subscribers to the loan feel proud and gratified at the result of their earnest, patriotic effort. In the third loan the number of subscribers was 1,700. At that time it was considered a large number of subscribers. In this loan the number of subscribers was more than doubled thus indicating that a great number of persons who failed to help in the past have added their support to the business of financing the war.

While the general committee deserves great credit for the success of the loan in Greene county the women's committee also comes in for a share of the credit. This committee made sales totalling $163,000. To L. Steinfelds probably goes the credit for making the largest individual sales. His sales total $94,900. While no official records are available it is understood that D. B. John has to his credit the second largest amount of sales. He sold $40,900 of bonds to 126 subscribers.

The quotas and the subscriptions of the various banking districts in the county follows:

	Quota	Subscribed
Xenia	$378,050	$562,950
Osborn	115,350	130,000
Spring Valley	31,150	57,200
Jamestown	99,350	111,400
Bowersville	35,000	39,850
Cedarville	97,300	124,000
Yellow Springs	57,650	85,000
Penn. Employees		42,900
Big 4 Employees		2,000
Totals	$803,850	$1,155,300

WEAVER DIVORCE SUIT IS HEARD IN COMMON PLEAS COURT

The divorce suit of Chas. L. Weaver, prominent farmer of the Wilmington pike, against Sylvia Weaver, and her cross petition and answer which were heard by Judge Clevenger of Wilmington, Monday, were taken under advisement by the court.

Forty witnesses, the most of whom were called to testify, were subpoenaed, and in addition a big crowd of sensational curiosity seekers were in attendance at the hearing. The witnesses were excluded from the court room, but in spite of danger of catching influenza those who were drawn by mere curiosity and a desire to hear what they expected to be spicy testimony, remained.

Witnesses were called to support Mr. Weaver's allegations of unfaithfulness and neglect of duty on the part of his wife, and her counter charges of cruelty. Judge Clevenger repressed frequent titters which went about the court room when the crowd heard something in the evidence which gratified its sense of humor. While the trial was in progress, Earl, the twelve year old son of the couple, who has been living with his father on the farm since the separation of his parents, waited in the clerk's office. He was called to the witness stand for a few questions, and was then taken aside by the court and questioned regarding which parent with whom he preferred to live.

Marcus Shoup was counsel for Mr. Weaver, and Mrs. Weaver was represented by Attorney M. J. Hartley.

EIGHT NEW CASES OF INFLUENZA AT WILBERFORCE CAMP

Eight new cases of influenza among the men of the army training unit at Wilberforce developed Monday.

This was the largest number of new cases that has appeared at Wilberforce in a week, and in the three previous days there had been only three cases.

There is one critical case of pneumonia among the students, that of Private Williams of Richmond, Va. Lieutenant George H. Flanders, army dentist at the school, a white man, continues seriously ill of pneumonia.

There have so far been approximately 80 cases of influenza treated at the university hospital, which is being used as an army hospital.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR RALPH MALLOW

Many fragrant flowers sent by loving and sympathetic friends of the family, surrounded the casket.

Interment was made in Woodland, and bearing the casket were six young men.

TYPICAL ALLIED PRESS COMMENT ON GERMAN'S LATEST NOTE

American: (New York Mail)—"To the latest falsehoods, evasions and diplomatic subterfuges attempted by Germany, the American people have but one rejoinder: 'You must surrender unconditionally!'"

British: (London Post)—"Germany's position is unchanged. Unless she is disarmed we cannot afford to talk, thus giving Germany the advantage of an unscrupulous liar over an honest man."

French: (Paris Midi)—"The present German government is not responsible. Scheidemann is no better than Bethmann-Hollweg. He is also a 'scrap of paper' man. But Wilson will not be duped."

WATER COMPANY GRANTED RIGHT TO REVISE RATES

A special dispatch to this paper from Columbus received late Tuesday afternoon states that the Public Utilities Commission has granted the Xenia Water Company permission to revise its water schedule on the grounds that the former rates were "unreasonable and unjust." While the telegram does not state it, the Utilities commission evidently means unjust to the Water company, as it is understood that this action gives the Water Company the right to revise its rates upward. The decision of the Utilities Commission also specifies that all future proposals to adjust rates by the company must first be submitted for review by the Utilities commission.

MILLIONS FOR OUR BOYS OVER THERE

Columbus, O.—(Special).—With the record-breaking Fourth Liberty Loan campaign brought to a successful close, Ohio now faces the biggest money raising campaign for war work that it has ever known. During the week of Nov. 11 to 18, Ohioans will be asked to give $10,650,000 to the United War Work Campaign "for the boys over there." The national quota is $170,500,000.

Never before has the public of the Buckeye state been asked to make such a donation for anything. The money collected will be used in providing physical, mental and spiritual comforts for the American soldiers overseas and in the cantonments of this country.

The United War Work Campaign is composed of these seven leading war work organizations, which have been recognized as being essential by the War Department: The Young Men's Christian Association, the Young Women's Christian Association, the Knights of Columbus, the Jewish Welfare Board, the American Library Association, the Salvation Army and the War Camp Community Service.

Of the amount raised during the campaign, 55.65 per cent will go to the Y. M. C. A., 8.50 per cent to the Y. W. C. A., 17.60 per cent to the Knights of Columbus, 8.50 per cent to the War Camp Community Service, 2.65 per cent to the Jewish Welfare Board, and the same percentage to the American Library Association and the Salvation Army.

To facilitate the campaign, Ohio has been divided into seven districts, and a quota has been assigned to each district. The districts, in turn, have been divided into counties, with a quota for each county.

One of the features of the campaign, which will be under the direction of F. W. Ramsey, a prominent business man of Cleveland, is that more than two-thirds of Ohio's quota of $10,650,000 will be raised in war chest communities, where no direct appeal for funds will be made to the people.

Ohio has gone "over the top" in every campaign for funds during the war, and United War Work Campaign officials are predicting that the state will do itself proud in this next campaign. The coming campaign will be for more than twice the amount of money raised by the last Red Cross drive, and with the exception of the Liberty Loan campaign is the largest money-raising of any kind ever staged in Ohio.

Millions Are Weak and Ailing Because of Acid-Stomach

There are any number of people who for years have been sick and ailing, weak, run down and in a poor physical condition who will be surprised—even dumbfounded—to learn that their trouble has just been an acid-stomach, which is merely another name for what doctors call acid-stomach. Yet it is now positively known that acid-stomach is the cause of a very large number of diseases.

Excess acid in the stomach prevents proper digestion and assimilation, thus causing the blood to become thin and impoverished as a result of which people become sallow-skinned, emaciated and anemic.

Excess acid causes irritation all along the intestinal tract—irritation so severe and aggravating as to frequently result in catarrh and even cancer of the stomach.

Excess acid causes stomach and intestinal fermentation, producing poisons which, absorbed into the blood and carried throughout the system, cause auto-intoxication, insomnia, nervousness, irritability, mental depression, melancholia, dizziness, vertigo and, often times, valvular heart trouble and heart failure.

Yes, many people will be greatly surprised to learn that such a long train of physical ailments can be traced directly to an acid-stomach. But there is no need for surprise. Think what acid mouth does to the teeth. The acid eats right through the enamel—the hardest substance in the human body. And that is exactly what makes teeth rot and decay. No wonder, then, that excess acid in the stomach plays such havoc, causes so much ill health and misery—makes so many people weak and ailing—unfit for either work or pleasure and brings on premature old age.

So often you have heard the remark: "I've taken all sorts of tonics and medicines and tried many different doctors but nothing seems to help me." Nine times out of ten the person making such a remark has an acid-stomach. And until the excess acid is removed, nothing will help. Remove that excess acid and the results are truly wonderful. Health and strength return almost like magic.

You can now rid your stomach of its excess acid. A wonderful modern medicine called EATONIC literally wipes it out. It does the work easily, speedily and thoroughly. It makes the stomach pure, sweet, cool and comfortable. And all simply because, by taking EATONIC, you get rid of a lot of excess acid that has been holding you back and making your life miserable.

This is the help you need. You need it to keep your stomach in a strong, healthy condition so that, in turn, your mind and body will be strong and vigorous.

FARM BUREAU IS REQUESTED TO HELP COLLECT FRUIT PITS

The County Farm Bureau has been asked to assist in the collection of nut hulls, peach and plum pits, etc., for the government.

The following telegram was received this morning from Washington:

"Government daily needs five hundred tons of shells from hickory, walnut, and butternut for use in gas mask making, so solicit your aid in every rural community for collecting these nuts and deliver to Red Cross for shipment. 'Urgent.' (Signed)

Clinton from Washington. There are already located in Xenia several "red, white and blue" barrels for the collection of these nut shells. We urge farmers to save their hulls and fruit stones and bring them to Xenia when they come or have similar receptacles placed in the villages throughout the county where they will be more convenient.

"Don't wait until you have a bushel of these hulls before bringing them in. They are needed now as much as every gas mask that is made requires six or seven pounds of nut hulls.

DISCOURAGED

You have tried everything. It's the same old story. I hear it every day. Your courage is gone, your faith is gone. The end would be gladly welcomed, but even that won't come. What would you give to be a well man—a well woman? What wouldn't you give? Worse cases, perhaps than yours, are yielding as if by magic to its subtle power. Why not your case? I will leave it to your intelligence and good judgment. Slaves to mock or false modesty, you deserve to suffer. 66 per cent of the supposed incurable cases could be relieved physically and mentally, if they would only confess it to a friend, family, or better, a skilled physician. Don't argue I've tried electricity with no results—you may have no idea what an up-to-date electrically equipped institution really is.

IF I ONLY KNEW JUST WHAT AILS ME.

How often have you made this remark? Yet you continue to suffer, hesitating to seek aid because you consider that medical attention would be too expensive, or, perhaps, are you dissatisfied with past treatment?

Remember, all the wishing, hoping and praying never cured any real physical ailment. Then, why continue to grope in the dark, suffering pain, discomfort and dissatisfaction?

An X-ray examination will cost you but one dollar and is considered by the medical profession as one of the greatest aids to a correct diagnosis. If your case is not incurable you can be treated in one of the most completely equipped offices in the Middle West. 25 years experience.

EAST END NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. George Anderson delightfully entertained Mrs. Anderson's sister and brother, Mrs. Bell Blackburn, and Mr. Web Simpson, of Springfield, at Sunday dinner.

Mrs. Harriet Young, who has been quite ill, is much improved.

George Anderson, who has been bed-fast from grip, is able to be about the house.

For the first time in its history, "Who's Who in America," the greatest biographical dictionary of people worth while in America, has appeared with the biographies of a negro and his son. There are about fifty negroes whose careers were considered worth enough to put into this volume. Among them are R. R. Wright, sr., president for nearly thirty years of Georgia State and Industrial College, and his son, Richard R. Wright, jr., of the Christian Recorder. This is the first time such has occurred. The latter Mr. Wright delivered an address at St. John's A. M. E. church this city, last summer, free of charge, and twelve persons availed themselves of the opportunity to hear him.

Miss Dora Underwood has gone to the country near Bellbrook, to nurse Mr. Peterson, who is ill with pneumonia.

Frank Bushon, of Camp Sherman is here on a furlough.

Mrs. Josephine Kelly is confined to the house by reason of illness. Clifford Anderson is on the sick list.

Mrs. Mildred Simpson is visiting her son in Champaign, Ohio.

Mr. Edgar Gullette, who is working in Columbus, visited his family Sunday.

The funeral of Mrs. Luzenia Ward worth will be held tomorrow afternoon at 1:30 o'clock from her late residence.

Mr. Oliver Gaines arrived home last night from Cleveland. He is ill with a cold and his heart seems to be affected somewhat. His mother met him in Springfield and accompanied him home. He rested well last night.

YOUNG GIRL IS LAID TO REST

The funeral services for Miss Garnett Strayer were conducted by Rev. Beck, of the Reformed church, at her late residence Saturday afternoon, at 2 o'clock. The pallbearers were: Charles Coy, Orville Luttrell, James Hackett, Harvey Leach, Harry Brill and Warren Morris.

A wealth of floral tributes were sent by her many friends. Among them was a spray of snap-dragons, from the teachers of the primary department of the Reformed Sunday School, of which Miss Strayer was a teacher. Also a bunch of roses was sent by the primary department of the Sunday School, and a basket of roses from her school friends.

The burial took place at the Byron cemetery. Thus a beautiful young life is ended and scores of friends will sadly miss her, and her father, mother and young brother have much sympathy in their deep affliction.

INDEFINITE LEAVE OF ABSENCE GIVEN REV. H. J. JEWETT

The Rev. Hibbard J. Jewett, who is expecting an appointment as army chaplain, was granted an indefinite leave of absence as pastor of Trinity M. E. church, by the official board of the church at the Quarterly Conference which was held Monday night.

At the same meeting, the Rev. Geo. W. Voris, of Springfield, was secured as acting pastor of Trinity, during the term of service of the Rev. Mr. Jewett. Rev. Voris will retain his residence in Springfield, and Rev. Jewett's family was given the use of Trinity parsonage during his absence.

Rev. Jewett who passed the examination for appointment as army chaplain ten days ago, is expected a call into the service at any time. He was recommended for a chaplaincy at a meeting of bishops of the Methodist Episcopal church which was held last summer.

The Rev. Mr. Voris was formerly pastor of the Story-Hypes church in Springfield, but received an appointment to the pastorate of a church at Oakley, a suburb of Cincinnati. Mrs. Voris is an invalid and owing to the condition of her health, it was impossible for Mr. Voris to move to Oakley and keep the charge. For this reason he accepted the temporary appointment in this city. His name was suggested to the official board at the Monday night meeting by the District Superintendent, Dr. W. A. Wiant of Springfield. Dr. Wiant called Rev. Voris at his home over long distance telephone, and arrangements were made by which he will fill the pulpit for Trinity.

"It is not proper for a man to sit on the arm of your chair in a crowded room. You should tell him politely that you do not wish him to sit there," advised her sister.

Owing to a great many farmers along the route being in town on Saturday the mail carried by Mr. Thompson was somewhat light today, but the quantity will be considerably increased hereafter. All the farmers along the route have asked for the service and are taking a lively interest in it.

MOTORAIDS

To the untimely motorist, if there are any such, the word carbon does not mean much. To the initiated, however, the word is full of meaning. It means trouble, expense and disappointment. Carbon is the curse of motoring. According to the motor wise the best way to save gasoline is to keep the motor free of carbon.

It is a well known fact that steam has a peculiar effect on carbon. According to experiments made by distinguished engineers, the application of steam to carbon loosens the substance to such an extent that it can be readily blown away.

"BROTHERHOOD OF MEN AND NATIONS."

Mr. John D. Rockefeller Jr., of 26 Broadway, New York, has sent us a dainty brochure containing his address delivered before the Civic and Commercial club at Denver, Col., June 13th, 1918, on the subject of "Brotherhood of Men and Nations." In his introduction to his address Mr. Rockefeller said:

"Four years ago this great world began. For two and a half years, while Europe was in the throes of the struggle, the United States stood on the side lines a neutral spectator.

"Today we are in the contest with all the strength and the vast resources of our great nation. Never was battle joined in holier cause.

The Germans are fighting for territorial expansion, commercial extension, military supremacy, world dominion—
material things.

"The Allies are fighting for spiritual things—the sacredness of a promise, the inviolability of womanhood, the rights of the weak, the freedom of the individual.

"In this fight we propose to stand on the side of the brave and unconquerable British, the gallant and indomitable French, the Italians, who in some military matters have been leaders, and our other Allies, until under God, victory has been achieved, even if it takes our last man, our last dollar and our last ounce of strength.

"The war is obviously the central thought in the minds of all of us, and such questions as these are constantly presenting themselves: What, if anything, might have been done to prevent this great conflict? Is there nothing which can render impossible its recurrence in the years to come?

"I am wondering whether there may not be something suggestive as an answer to these questions in the subject of which I desire to speak very simply and informally, and which is summed up in the single word, 'Brotherhood.'

In his division of his subject as given in this pamphlet Mr. Rockefeller gives separate chapters on his views of Brotherhood in Personal Relations; in Business; Between Government and Business; in the Religious World, and Between Nations. He defines Brotherhood in Personal Relations as "where men rub elbows."

His chapter on "Brotherhood in Industry" is the longest of all. This perhaps because of his personal relations with the laborers in the mines in which the Rockefeller estate has a leading interest. He speaks particularly of conditions in the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company, which has been in operation for three years, worked out on the plan of Industrial Representation; the Employees' Bill of Rights embracing the following features: the right to hold meetings outside working hours; the right to membership or non-membership in any society or organization;
the right of appeal.

He gives the result of this company's operations for the three years in brief, as follows: Uninterrupted operation and increased output; improved conditions; close contact between officers and men; elimination of grievance; good will and community spirit; club house and Y. M. C.
A.; band stands; schools; $1,700,000
subscribed to second and third Liberty Loans; in one camp every man put his name down for a day's pay to the Red Cross.

But there are so many good things in this little pamphlet that we think we can do our readers no better service than to give them one chapter
in full as follows:

"Brotherhood in Social Life—This spirit of Brotherhood is no more essential in industry and business than it is in social life.

"As nations prosper, social strata are formed, with the result that misunderstandings arise, bitterness is generated, and class antagonism is stirred up.

The war is obliterating these class distinctions. This is being accomplished to a marked degree among the men in the training camps.

"No longer is the question asked where a man comes from, who his parents are, what he has; but rather, is he a good soldier, is he brave, is he uncomplaining under hardship, is he a loyal comrade?

"These new relationships which are growing up among men quickly lead to the development of Brotherhood, and the opinions which men have formed of each other, or of other classes, based often only on hearsay, or the public press, are frequently changed when personal contact is this point, perhaps a personal reference may be pardoned.

"After speaking in a Y. M. C. A. hut in one of the training camps, as I have done on a number of occasions during the past nine months, I was standing in the center of a group of soldiers, when one of their number, an Italian, went up to a secretary and said, 'Which is this man Rockefeller?'

"Pointing to the group the secretary said, 'That is he, over there among those men.'

"The Italian came over, walked brought about. As illustrative of slowly around the group, looked, stopped and listened, and finally went back to the secretary and said: 'Come,
stop your fooling, that's not him; tell me which he is.'

"Whereupon the secretary replied that it was I, to which the Italian answered.

"Why, that's a man, that's no devil."

"So it is, as men meet face to face they come to know each other very differently than they do by hearsay.
The average man is quick to discern fraud and insincerity and equally quick to recognize genuine friendliness.

A like spirit is developing equally among the women of our land.

"One sees in the Red Cross auxiliary the society woman, the cook, the shop girl, the stenographer, all sitting side by side at the same table, dressed in the Red Cross uniform, and the only question asked is 'Which does the best and most work?'

"That one, whether from the bottom or the top of the social ladder, is the most highly regarded."

"THE WIFE"

BY JANE PHELPS

Ruth is Again Obligated to Go Away.
Brian Objects at First.

CHAPTER LXVIII.

These occasional conversations with Mrs. Curtis anent the "woman question" gave Ruth much food for thought. She was the last sort of woman to insist upon her "rights" or to parade her capabilities in any direction. She intended to do her work. From choice, the more quietly she was enabled to do it, the better
she was pleased. But if to have it exploited helped the firm, she had no right to object.

When she had demurred at having her name put on the cards of the firm as its expert in her line, Mandel had argued with her. His arguments contained much truth, and he knew how to present them to Ruth in such a way that she immediately recognized their force. Then too, she very naturally was flattered to think he considered her work good enough to give it such prominence.

This was another fly in Brian's ointment—a great big, buzzing creature that he seemed unable to brush away. Back it came insistently with its annoying accompaniment of noisy suggestion.

Then once more she was told she would have to go away suddenly, as had happened before.

"You can go?" Mandel asked, after explaining what was needed.

"Certainly," Ruth recognized the call on her was a business one. She had elected to be a business woman,
so she must obey without hesitation.
The train she was expected to take for a town in Northern New York left the Grand Central Station at five o'clock.
Mr. Mandel had told her she might go directly and pack. It was only a little after two, and she knew with Rachel's help she could pack all she needed in a half hour. At first she thought of telephoning Brian to meet her at the train to say "good bye."
Then decided she would surprise him.
So she jumped into a taxi and gave his office address to the driver.

She found Brian doggedly at work over some papers. He scowled as she opened the door, interrupting him.
But when he turned and saw her, the scowl left his face to be replaced by one of amazement. Unless it had been to meet him to go somewhere for the evening, Ruth never had visited the office.

"I have to go away at five, so came down to say good bye," she said as brightly as she was able. It tore her heart strings to leave him again.
She told him in a few words where she was going, how long she expected to remain.

He listened in silence, making no objection. When she finished he said:
"Who's going with you?" thoughts of Mandel bringing the scowl back to his face.

"No one! Why?"

"I thought perhaps that boss of yours was going with you again. He seems to like to have you with him.
Pays you enough for your society."

"Oh, Brian!" was all Ruth said in reply to his unkind insinuation, but her eyes filled.

"That's right! play the innocent! Of course you don't know he is in love with you. You never thought of such a thing."

"No, Brian, I never have. If you

RESCUED FROM THE HORROR OF HUN SLAVERY

could see just how Mr. Mandel is with me, you would not say such untrue and unkind things. I am simply one of his clerks. That is all. He is always gentlemanly, never anything more."

"And I am not that, I suppose."

"Oh, Brian," she said again. How could she go and do the work expected of her and leave him in this mood?
To her harassed mind and heart, his words affected her more than he had any idea. Disturbing thoughts of Mollie King also intruded. She would not say one word to make him more impatient of her going than he already was.

She said she must be going, then waited, hoping he would say something about being at the train or at least that he would go down to the taxi with her. Unfortunately, she made a faux pas at this uncture one upon which he was quick to seize.

"It is too bad you can't ride home with me," she said. "But I see you are busy. When the firm pays for the taxi I feel quite reckless so kept it waiting."

"Furnishes you with taxis too, does he? I suppose all the rest of the clerks are sent around in taxis at his expense. I believe you just said you were just one of his clerks."

Ruth scarcely knew what to say or do. She felt she couldn't leave Brian in his present state of mind. He would be reckless while she was away,
and she, thinking of him, would be unfitted for her work.

"Brian, dear, please let us be fair to each other," she said, putting her arms around his neck and kissing him.
I love you with all my heart, dear. I never give a single thought to any one else. And you know it too, you naughty boy. Now kiss me and send me away with a smile."

She was hard to resist, when in this mood. Brian kissed her, then took her in his arms, and told her he was a brute and several other things. When perfect peace had been made, he took her down to the taxi and stood watching as long as he could see her waiting to him.

Tomorrow—Mr. Mandel Urges Ruth
to Take a Rest. She Refuses.

Monument to Genius.

Amid the ruins of the capitol at Rome, on October 15, 1764, Edward Gibbon formed the resolve to write
"The Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire," and on the night of June 27, 1767, nearly twenty-three years later, in the summerhouse of his garden, the last word was written, but in those laborious years Gibbon had built an enduring monument to his own genius.

induced to adopt the morning inside bath, what a gratifying change would take place. Instead of the thousands of sickly, anaemic-looking men, women and girls, with pasty or muddy complexions; instead of the multitudes of "nerve wrecks," "rundowns,"
"brain fags" and pessimists we should see a virile, optimistic throng of rosy-cheeked people everywhere.

An inside bath is had by drinking each morning, before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and ten yards of bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour fermentations and poisons, thus cleansing, sweetening, and freshening
the entire alimentary canal, before putting more food into the stomach.
Those subject to sick headache, biliousness, nasty breath, rheumatism, colds and particularly those who have a pallid, sallow complexion and who are constipated very often, are urged to obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store, which will cost but a trifle, but is sufficient to demonstrate the quick and remarkable change in both health and appearance, awaiting those who practice internal sanitation. We must remember that inside cleanliness is more important than outside, because the skin does not absorb impurities to contaminates the blood while the pores in the thirty feet of bowels do.

"Spokes"—
and the Swift
"Wheel"

What would you consumers think of a wheel without spokes?

What would you think of a man who would take any or all of the spokes out of a wheel to make it run better?

Swift & Company's business of getting fresh meat to you is a wheel, of which the packing plant is only the hub. Retail dealers are the rim—and Swift & Company Branch Houses are the spokes.

The hub wouldn't do the wheel much good and you wouldn't have much use for hub or rim if it weren't for the spokes that fit them all together to make a wheel of it.

Swift & Company Branch Houses are placed, after thorough investigation, in centers where they can be successfully operated and do the most good for the most people at the least possible cost.

Each "spoke" is in charge of a man who knows that he is there to keep you supplied at all times with meat, sweet and fresh; and who knows that if he doesn't do it,
his competitor will.

How much good would the hub and the rim of the Swift "wheel" do you if the spokes were done away with?

WHAT WAR MOVES MEAN

BY J. W. T. MASON.

New York, Oct. 22.—Invasion of Hungary of allied forces operating in Serbia is now threatened by way of the iron gate of the Danube, near Orsova, where the Hungarian, Rumanian and Serbian boundaries meet.

The allied advance from Nish, the present base of operations in Serbia is taking two directions, one directly north toward Orsova and the other northwest toward Belgrade. The Serbian capital. The Orsova movement is by far the more important of the two. It has progressed half way from Nish to the Hungarian border and there remains by but 50 miles before the Danube can be reached.

The defensive center of Negotin, alone remains to be taken by the allies before they have a clear road to the Hungarian frontier. Once the Danube is crossed and an invasion of Hungary actually begins, the possibility of a separate peace being agreed to by the Hungarian government will increase with each mile the allies advance toward Hungary's wheat fields and cattle plains.

There is every indication that the movement among the Hungarians' complete separation from Austria has lately reached disquieting portions to the absolutist Hapsburgs. Instead of independence, extension of local self government is being promised which does not satisfy the Hungarians. The Hapsburgs look upon the independence movement as a traitorous act toward their own dynasty.

Advance into Hungary by the allies at this time would come, therefore, at an opportune moment to permit the Hungarians to decide their own future, according to the Wilson policy of self determination. With allied troops at hand to support a declaration of independence by Hungary, a sudden break up of the Hapsburg empire would receive every encouragement.

The allies advance through Serbia may be regarded as having this objective as its major purpose. Should it succeed Germany's isolation would require only the defection of Vienna to become complete.

DEATH OF DAYTON MAN RECALLS GERMAN PAPER IN XENIA

Henry M. Bussdicker, a former Xenia man, died in Dayton on Tuesday of last week, where he had lived for many years.

Mr. Bussdicker was a printer, and was employed in the office of the Dayton Daily News, until he was incapacitated by illness a few months ago.

The passing of Mr. Bussdicker recalls an interesting chapter in the newspaper history of Xenia some 30 years ago. Mr. Bussdicker's father was a prominent German citizen of Dayton, was a minister and conducted a printing office on East Fifth street in that city, and several of his sons were printers. Henry and one of his brothers conceived the idea that starting a German paper in Xenia might prove a profitable venture. A small quantity of "Dutch" type and a press large enough to print one page of a paper the size of the Gazette and Republican were shipped to this city. The "office" of the paper was located for a time in the room then occupied by the Democrat-News, a weekly newspaper edited by M. M. Gaunce, a very well known lawyer and editor here in the eighties) in the Trebine building on West Second street, now used by H. E. Schmidt & Co. Later the office was moved to the old wholesale building on East Main street.

A small bundle of papers that had been already printed, with the exception of one page were shipped to Xenia each week. The remaining or blank page of the paper, which was a four-page affair, was made up of ads, a small amount of type set in the office here, and plate matter brought along from Dayton.

Subscribers were about as few and far between as mile posts on a country mud road, but that did not deter the managers of the paper from applying for the publication of the legal printing of the county, claiming that the state law required this to be done, as was actually the case in several other counties of the state. The request was refused, however. Then the managers of the paper proceeded with the printing of the "legal" matter and presented a bill to the county commissioners, amounting to several hundreds of dollars. Still being refused they entered suit in the common pleas court against the commissioners, who vigorously defended it, and after several months' time secured a verdict in their favor.

Claims were made by the commissioners that the paper was not a bonafide publication, that there was no real need of a German paper in Greene county, that the most of the paper was "borrowed" from Dayton, that it would be a ridiculous expenditure of the tax-payers' money to place the county's advertising in a sheet where practically nobody would ever see it, that the most of the German people of the county were able to read English anyway, and took the English county-papers, and that the whole thing was a clever scheme on the part of the management of the paper to pick up a lot of good dollars for practically nothing; in short, that the latter was the sole inspiration of the inception of the enterprise in Xenia.

The day of the adverse decision was one of keen disappointment and disgust for the German newspaper men, and that very night a moving van backed up to the office, the material was loaded into it and taken back to Dayton, so that next morning there was nothing left of this German institution but the bare walls of the room it had formerly occupied.

This is believed to be the first and the last attempt to start a German paper in Xenia.

GOVERNMENT PLANS TO ERECT THOUSAND HOUSES IN DAYTON

The government is planning to build 1,000 homes in Dayton in order to relieve the congestions in housing conditions in that city, as well as furnish places of abode for war workers. It is said the houses will be built whether peace is declared or not. The most of these houses will be erected in the southwestern portion of the city, known as Edgemont, and in North Dayton, within easy access of large munition plants. Xenians moving to Dayton within the last year or two have complained of the great scarcity of desirable houses for rent in that city, also of the excessive rentals, both for houses and furnished rooms. Small houses considerable distances from the center of the city, have in some cases, been boosted in price until $35 or $40 a month is asked, and even more, while a desirable furnished room costs $3.50 to $6 per week or more. The price of food in the restaurants in Dayton is also very high, so that Xenia people having jobs in Dayton "bullet factories" have found it more economical to continue to reside in Xenia, carry their lunches and back and forth each day, the most of them over the D. & X.

Over at Chillicothe, owing to the town being full of army officers, and even privates, who have brought their families in, it is said to be almost impossible to rent a house. A B. & O. Railroad man brought a story to this city that a house owner there one day jokingly remarked to a party of her friends that she would like to rent her home place. With a few hours she had been waited upon by two or three persons seeking houses to rent. The last man was a desperado, offered her $40 per month for the house, which is a modest five-room cottage. The landlady refused this figure, and the house seeker offered $50. Finding that the landlady would not accept this price, the man offered $60. This price proved too tempting for the landlady, and she rented her house, although she said she was ashamed to take the money, but the man said that he felt fortunate in getting the place even at that price.

The same house in ordinary times, the railroad man said, could be rented for about $15 per month.

Your Soldier Boy is Calling YOU!

These are the Very Words He is sending back home to You about the Work of these Great Organizations Read each word carefully

"To the folks back home, from the camp, cantonment and from the battle-scarred fields of France, we want to tell you of the magnificent work of the United Organizations. We know that there isn't father, mother, sister, sweetheart or friend in America that wouldn't like, each day, to stand beside their soldier boy, take his hand in theirs and tell him of their interest, pride and love for him for the part he plays in the battle that is to bring safety, security and happiness to the home you love so well. It would be wonderful for you to do this."

"But these great organizations are taking your place. The thousand things you send, they give; always with us everywhere, they provide and cheer. They seem to think of everything—we could not get along without them. Give all you can, help all you can. Magazines, papers, books, music, movie shows, entertainments and talks, athletic goods, smokes, canned fruits, chocolate bars, Testaments—and what is not least, a smile and a word of cheer. It helps and helps a lot—it will quicken the day that victory will be ours—it helps to tell us how much you care, and that is everything."

STORIES OF HUN BRUTALITY COME FROM ALL QUARTERS

London, Oct. 22.—From all quarters of the countries that have been under the heel of the enemy come stories of brutality toward helpless women and children, theft of provisions intended for their help and other acts of savagery.

Telegrams arriving in London continue to furnish proof of outrages committed by the Germans in their retreat from Flanders. The enemy set fire to Roulers in several places and cross roads were mined.

Inhabitants tell heart rending stories of pillage and violence and say just before the end the Germans stole their food as to force them to consent to quit their homes.

A correspondent of the Havis agency on the British front telegraphs that on Friday afternoon shots were fired at the crowds in Lille from a German airplane and several persons were wounded. The enemy also bombarded the town with a long range gun. The Germans have destroyed the municipal water works and gas and electric appliances.

On Sept. 30, the Germans carried off all securities which were still in possession of the Bank of Lille.

Two outstanding crimes disgrace the invader—the deportation of women in October, 1916, and the carry off of men, which was effected ten days ago. These men went out of Lille singing the "Marseillaise."

The Germans have robbed and pillaged in every direction, destroying furniture and breaking open floors and ceilings. When the Germans left Ostend they drove every head of cattle out of the town. When the allied troops arrived there was no milk in the place and the children were suffering. The British landed thousands of tins of condensed milk and many tons of flour for the inhabitants.

The Burgomaster of Ostend was taken in a torpedo boat destroyer at the request of the king and queen of Belgium, who went minutely into the condition of the Ostend inhabitants.

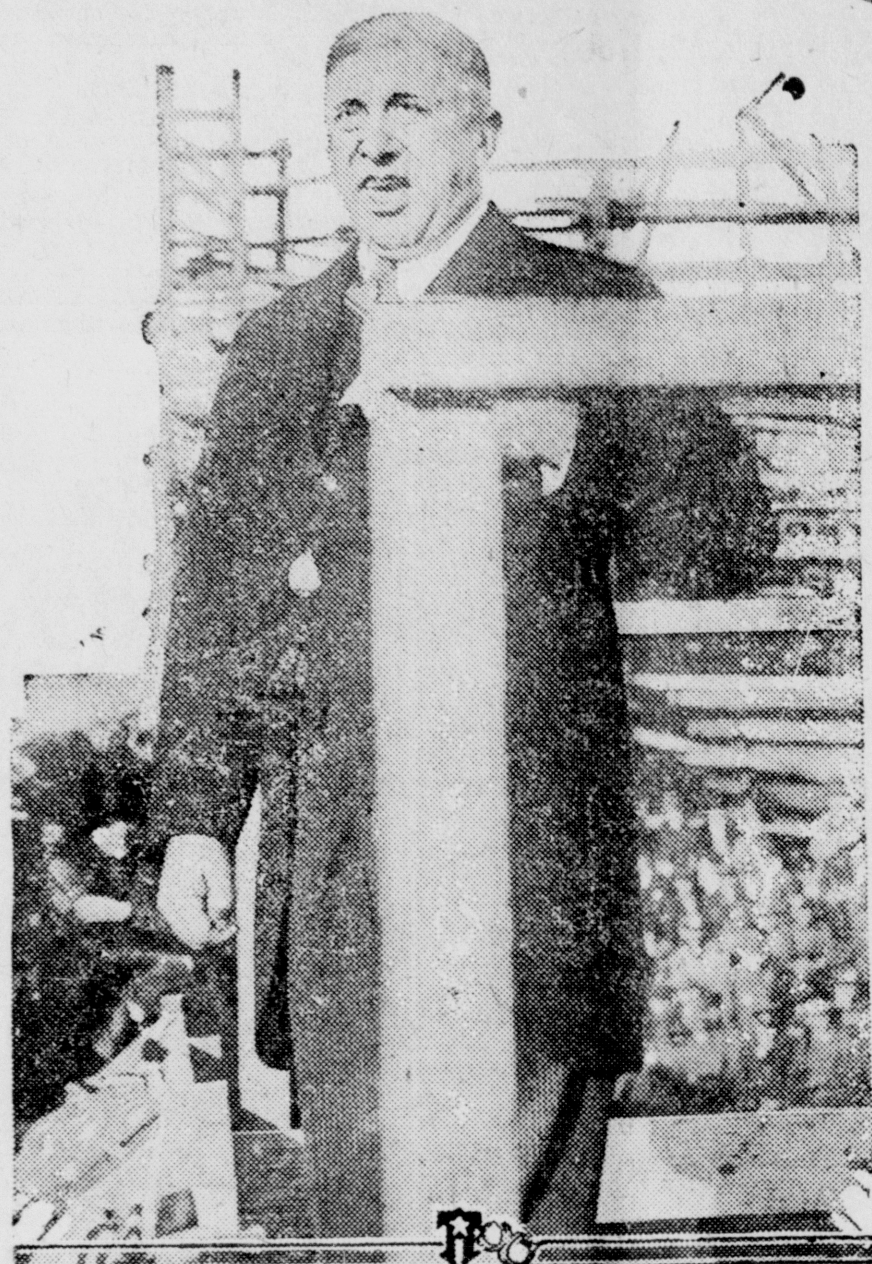

Dr. Calmette, director of the Pasteur Institute at Lille has written a letter describing the action of the Germans in carrying off the last three horses remaining at the institute for the production of anti-diphtheria serum. In view of the fact that this action is not only contrary to international laws, but also in opposition to the most elementary dictates of humanity, M. Calmette demands that reparation be exacted.

A war correspondent with the Canadian forces described how at Montigny a German officer lived on friendly terms with a French family for eighteen months. One evening he failed to return and at three o'clock in the morning the house was blown up by a mine, everyone in the large family being killed except an infant son.

How Schooner Got Name.

How did the name "schooner" originate? It was about the year 1713 and at Gloucester the first vessel of the schooner type was launched. A tradition persists that enthusiastic at the speed made on her trial trip a boy exclaimed, "See how she scoons!" "A schooner let her be!" agreed the builder, hearing the remark. This is a probable story; the word schoon in ancient New England meant a flat stone to skip along the water.

SCHWAB'S SPEECH SELLS $52,000,000 WORTH OF LIBERTY BONDS AT LAUNCHING

Charley Schwab speaking at launching of "Allies" and "Consort" at Newark Bay shipyard.

The launching of the two ships, "Allies" and "Consort," at the Newark Bay shipyards recently was but a small part of the ceremony attending the launching. The splash was preceded by a luncheon at the Waldorf, after which Charley Schwab made a stirring appeal for funds to build twenty-two more ships. His speech resulted in the sale of $52,000,000 worth of Liberty bonds in fifty-two minutes. The party then went to the shipyard for the launching of the vessels named by Mrs. Wilson in honor of the allies.

MINISTERS PROTEST

The Xenia Ministerial Association has issued the following statement with reference to the closing of churches and opening of saloons and pool rooms during the present influenza epidemic:

Inasmuch as much public criticism has been aroused over the fact that pool rooms, saloons and other places remain open during the influenza epidemic while churches are closed the Xenia Ministerial Association makes the following statement:

This Association patriotically complied with the order of the local Board of Health that churches be closed notwithstanding the hardship this has meant to church life. Habits of hundreds of Sabbath school children and church goers have been sadly disturbed while the habit of not a single drinker or pool room visitor has suffered.

We have repeatedly brought to the attention of the local Health Officer the fact that these places remain open and continue frightful breeding places of disease. Our survey of the pool rooms of Xenia alone reveals the astounding fact that as many as fifty and more men congregate in them repeatedly these nights and leisurely spend their hours there while church services are completely suspended.

We formally appeal to the Health Officer to use every lawful effort to suppress the places mentioned and all others where people congregate.

We reiterate our former public statement as to our willingness to co-operate in every way with the local health authorities in consistently stamping out this plague. The suggestion is made that all societies and places of business be the readier to adopt the "Move On" slogan and prevent congregating of people.

XENIA MINISTERIAL ASSOCIATION

Editor Gazette and Republican:
It does seem to me that the Board of Health is inconsistent to allow from two to three hundred persons to gather into a store that has advertised a special sale on different articles, and at the same time keep the churches closed on the Sabbath day. Say, consistency is a jewel.

G. W. Maxwell.

Laws Must Be Obeyed.

Swift steps to pre-eminence must depend on sane principles. To advance you must wrest from nature her secrets and apply them to the meeting of human needs. No matter what you think of yourself you must follow nature's laws to get anywhere. You must also obey the laws of man or pay for your disregard of other people's rights. No matter who you are you must respect what has been decreed. No wild nonsense will be tolerated even if you do think you are a genius. You must respect truth and use it in forging ahead. When you have the skill that harnesses its new forms and hitches it to new tasks you are working in the right direction. When you have distanced your fellows they will learn to admire you. You can do this if you start right and keep going.

LIKENESS OF 'BILL' SMITH ILLUSTRATES STORY IN LESLIE'S

While the name of the soldier represented is not given, relatives and friends of William J. (Bill) Smith, are certain that the picture of a "doughboy" used to illustrate a story "The Doughnut Enters the Halls of Fame," in the current issue of Leslie's Weekly, is the Xenia lad.

The soldier is represented eating a doughnut while beneath the cut is this paragraph: "This healthy doughboy is helping the doughnut along with a cup of coffee. Thanks to the Salvation Army, he and a few thousand others have a 'bracer' close up behind the battle front whenever they get a chance to get back between the walls of the retreating Hun."

Young Smith first found his way into the magazines some time ago when his picture was used in an illustration of a war story in the Ladies' Home Journal. At that time he was also represented as eating.

Mr. G. J. Smith, father of "W. Jacob" is sure the picture in Leslie's is that of his son.

Patriotic Air Roused Her.

A Quincy girl returned from a dance recently at about 3 a. m. and could not be awakened for work. The alarm clock had no effect, nor did repeated calls from members of the family. Her little brother tossed the reveller, but the girl was no soldier. Finally "The Stars and Stripes" was played, and to that the patriotic girl immediately responded.—Boston Globe.

OHIO HEALTH DEPARTMENT DISCOURAGED

Columbus, O., October 22.—Encouraging reports indicating a slight falling off in the number of new cases of Spanish influenza in other sections of the country were not reflected in information that is reaching the Ohio state health department.

From virtually all sections of Ohio where the disease has made its appearance came reports of additional cases which, when tabulated, are expected to bring the total number in the state thus far brought to the attention of the health department to approximately 100,000.

To combat the epidemic's spread, however, an elaborate medical machine is being brought into action.

Two representatives of the public service bureau are co-ordinating the medical and Red Cross facilities of the state to make them available at the shortest possible notice to districts needing them most.

Already physicians and nurses have been sent to many communities where the rapid spread of influenza outdistanced the limit of medical aid available.

No indications of lifting the ban on public gatherings is in sight. On the other hand, even more strict regulations are being enforced and penalties for violations of the health department order have been prescribed.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR FRANK BROWN

Funeral services for Frank Brown, who died of pneumonia at the St. Elizabeth hospital in Dayton, Saturday were held at the home on East Olmsted street, Dayton, at 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, and the body was brought to Xenia for interment in Woodland.

Mr. Brown was 31 years old, and his home was formerly in Xenia. He was employed for several years by the City Steam Laundry in Dayton. He left his widow, who was before marriage Miss Radie Chittum, of this county, and his five children. He is survived by his father, Nathan Brown, of Xenia, and three sisters, Miss Rurle Brown, Mrs. William Bull, of Dayton, and Miss Elsie, of Xenia.

Coughed So He Couldn't Sleep.
Bronchial coughs, tickling in throat and asthmatic spasms break one's rest and weaken one so that the system is run down and serious sickness may result. Enos Halbert, Paoli, Ind., writes: "I had a severe cold and coughed continually at night; could hardly sleep. Foley's Honey and Tar cured my cough." Sayre & Hemphill, adv.

Easy to Make This
Pine Cough Remedy

Thousands of families swear by its prompt results. Inexpensive, and saves about $2.

You know that pine is used in nearly all prescriptions and remedies for coughs. The reason is that pine contains several peculiar elements that have a remarkable effect in soothing and healing the membranes of the throat and chest. Pine is famous for this purpose.

Pine cough syrups are combinations of pine and syrup. The "syrup" part is usually plain granulated sugar syrup. To make the best pine cough remedy that money can buy, put 2½ ounces of Pinex in a pint bottle, and fill up with homemade sugar syrup. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, you make a full pint—more than you can buy ready-made for three times the money. It is pure, good and very pleasant—children take it eagerly.

You can feel this take hold of a cough or cold in a way that means business. The cough may be dry, hoarse and tight, or may be persistently loose from the formation of phlegm. The cause is the same—inflamed membranes—and this Pinex and Syrup combination will stop it—usually in 24 hours or less. Splendid, too, for bronchial asthma, hoarseness, or any ordinary throat ailment.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and is famous the world over for its prompt effect upon coughs.

Beware of substitutes. Ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

A LEAP FOR LIFE BY A GERMAN OBSERVER

German observer jumping from balcony fired by allies.

the German who's pulling off the leap for life isn't staging it for the benefit of anyone but himself. His observation balloon has been fired by the allied aviators. He is leaping free from it and depending on the parachute to save him. The ropes around his body are connected with the parachute which can be seen, still rolled up. Whether the Hun made a safe landing isn't known. Nobody's worrying about it.

FOOTBALL SCHEDULE TO BE RESUMED

After a two weeks' layoff due to the epidemic of influenza football will be resumed Saturday when the local team journeys to Urbana. Several players have been ill but it is thought that they will be able to play by Saturday. Coach Fairies was forced to cancel both the Urbana game at home and the Steele game at Dayton, and it is hoped that the remainder of the season can be played without further change. Manager Vannorsdall is trying to arrange a game with Steele to be played during the week. A shift has been made in the schedule leaving the Urbana game the only one to be played away from home. East Hill of Columbus will be met here Nov. 16 instead of Washington, and St. Mary's play on Nov. 23. This leaves the team without a Thanksgiving game, but it is probable that some team will be booked for that date.

A number of the players are working since the closing of school and in order to not interfere with their work Coach Fairies has called practice for 7 o'clock Wednesday night. All players are asked to report at Central building promptly on Wednesday night.

CELEBRATE INDUCTION INTO THE SERVICE

Company F, 330th Infantry, which includes in its personnel the majority of the first bunch of white selectives which left Greene county, September 19, 1917, recently celebrated in France the first anniversary of its induction into the service.

A banquet was held, and a visitor to the company on that occasion was Major General Edmondson, who was captain of the company while it was at Camp Sherman, and until after the regiment reached France, when he was promoted. Captain Edmondson in a speech said that his success was due chiefly to the splendid support he received from the men of his company, and in particular from the boys of Greene county.

CONSIDERS REPLY EVASIVE.

Paris, October 22.—The Paris Mili considers the German reply evasive. "The present German government is not responsible," the newspaper declared today.

"Scheidemann is no better than Bethmann-Hollweg. He is a 'scoundrel of a German.' But Wilson will not be duped."

Washington, October 22.—The war department today made public the names of two lieutenants and 99 privates lost when the U. S. Steamship Ticonderoga was submerged September 30.

Fourteen privates are listed as having been saved.

The navy department previously had announced a list of eleven officers and 102 enlisted men of the navy who were lost at the same time, three officers and five enlisted men who were saved and two officers who were taken prisoners.

The Columbus Automobile Club made the trip here with a 10-piece band to assist in the celebration.

Sardine Oil.

A new industry has lately become established on the west coast of southern India for the manufacture from the sardine of fish oil and sardine, according to report. Previously sardines in many thousands of tons had been dried whole on the beach for manure, but by this wasteful process all the oil was lost.

SURRENDER OF HUNS WANTED

Washington, Oct. 22.—Senator Poindexter of Washington, Republican, introduced a joint resolution yesterday proposing that congress forbid further negotiations by the United States with Germany looking to the granting of an armistice or peace until the German military forces have surrendered unconditionally. It was referred to the foreign relations committee.

HOUSE OF COMMONS HOSTILE TO REPLY OF THE GERMANS

London, October 22.—The majority of the members of the house of commons are hostile to Germany's reply, regarding it as an attempt to split the allies.

Solf's armistice plan is not sufficient, they declare. The constitutional changes referred to, they point out, are contained in a bill which has not yet been passed by the Reichstag.

A few laborites and radicals regard the note as a great advance from previous German notes.

Evolution of the Lady Barber.

Some of you men seem to think that woman is not qualified to take her place at the barber chair. She's been trimming men ever since the first Hector was a pup; she took to singeing man's contentment the moment she spotted Adam trying to determine why he was a rib shy; and she began to shave when the first efficient male idiot decided that a weekly allowance for household expenses was the proper thing.—Letter in New York Sun.
